

Learners with special educational needs, learning difficulties and disabilities policy

Special educational needs and disabilities are accessed differently in other countries so the School may enroll a student without knowing about relevant support needs. It is therefore important for a learner to make YES aware of any such needs in their application.

The School treats all declared special needs on a case by case basis, involving discussions between the Management Team and the Director. The School reserves the right to assess the needs of each learner and make a judgement about the ability of the School to meet those needs.

Currently the School has some limited wheelchair access and disabled toilet facilities. However, where the school feels that it is unable adequately to cater for a learner's needs, it reserves the right to refuse admission.

Learners who have been accepted and do have special needs or a disability will be risk assessed. This will be recorded and placed in the class register so that information is available for the teacher when planning.

Learners who do not declare their disability or learning needs, whom the school judges it is not possible to teach adequately, would be asked to leave the school with a full-refund of fees minus an administration fee.
